CONDITIONS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Students must attend on designated assessment days allocated by trainers at the commencement of a subject unit. Student attendance on these assessment days is compulsory. - Additional assessment days will be arranged for students who do not attend on assessment days. The date(s) of these additional assessment days will be notified to students in advance. These additional assessment days are the final opportunity for students to complete their assessments. - An 'assessment no-show' fee of $50 must be paid for each unit assessment that a student has missed due to non-attendance on schedule assessment day(s). - Students agree that they will join the additional assessment day(s). Students will be notified of the dates of these additional assessment days. Attendance is compulsory. - Failure to attend the organized assessment session might result in an extension of CoE and/or further fees unless compassionate or compelling circumstances apply. - Australian International College reserves the right to change the assessment dates with or without prior notice.
